

Children's National

Global Health Initiative

Nursing in Pediatric Global Health: Care of the Sick Child in Low Resource Settings

Friday, February 5th | 8am – 4pm

Location: Online on Zoom

Agenda and Objectives

8am Keynote: COVID-19 Global Perspectives Panel

Global Health Panel

9am Acute Respiratory Illness: A Case Discussion

Kristen Breslin, MD - CNH

Differential diagnosis for children presenting with respiratory distress in developing countries; Evaluation, diagnosis and management of patients in limited resource settings, WHO guidelines for managing acute lower respiratory tract infections in children

10am BREAK

10:15am Diarrhea, Dehydration, and Malnutrition: A Case Discussion

Jen Chapman, MD -CNH

How to assess children with diarrhea and dehydration; Most current guidelines and practice for managing diarrhea and dehydration in the developing world; How to evaluate, diagnose and manage patients in limited resource settings; Signs of severe acute malnutrition in children; Principles of management of SAM

11am Ethics and Global Health Discussion

(Panel)

Ethical issues common to international volunteer work; addressing ethical problems that are related to volunteer work, and patient care in developing countries.

12:15-1pm LUNCH BREAK

1-4pm Emergency Triage Assessment and Treatment (ETAT) workshop

Variations in triage seen in the developing world; Priority categories for low-resource and tropical settings; Emergency signs according to the World Health Organization ETAT guidelines; Current evidence on the impact of triage, patient flow, and emergency treatment on early and total hospital mortality rates

Questions, thoughts or ideas?

Please email Kristi (kmyers@childrensnational.org)